

Student Example of Animal Adaption Interview

I = Interviewer E= Elephant

I. Today I have a special guest elephant.

E. I am very happy to be here today.

I. well I am very happy to have you. Now, what are some of your predators?

E. Lions and humans are my only predators.

I. What defenses do you have against your predators?

E. I protect myself by using my tusks to ram into predators and my feet to stomp on predators.

I. What types of food do you eat?

E. I eat trees, grass, bamboo, and a variety of plants.

I. How do you find food?

E. I get my food by using my trunk but when a tree is too high I pull the tree out of the ground.

I. Do you have any special body parts that help you eat, hunt or build a home?

E. My tusks are the longest part of my teeth and my trunk is my nose and upper lip put together and they both help me eat, hunt and build a home.

I. Thank you for coming we hope we can see you again.
